

Renegotiating NAFTA!

To work for working people and the environment, and to combat the climate crisis, a renegotiated NAFTA must

- exclude Investor-State-Dispute-Settlement provisions (ISDS)
- not waive important “Buy American” and “Buy Local” public procurement preferences
- include much stronger and enforceable labor, environmental, and public health standards in the agreement itself
- be negotiated in a democratic, accountable and transparent process

Any agreement that does not meet these 4 criteria must be rejected
